JOHN JULIUS NORWICH MEMORIAL APPEAL

In memory of Venice in Peril's much-loved and celebrated Chairman, John Julius Norwich, an appeal for £100,000 has been launched to conserve the iconostasis in the cathedral of Torcello.

This project was chosen because it recalls his lifelong devotion to Venice and Byzantium. The iconostasis is a screen between the nave and the sanctuary. Its earliest stonework elements date from around 1100 with the 13 tempera panels of the apostles flanking the Virgin and Child, painted in the early 15C, probably by Zanino di Pietro. Both the structure and the painted panels are in need of conservation work.

This will be a joint project with SAVE Venice Inc, our sister organisation in the USA which is launching its own appeal.

Many Venice in Peril supporters will have personal memories of John Julius. Please share them with us.
