Venice is forever in the news, a measure of our fascination with the city built on water. However, while Venetian art and culture, regattas and festivals capture our attention, we are constantly aware of the threats posed by the fragility of the lagoon, a shrinking population and the demands of tourism. Become a Friend, or Patron, of Venice in Peril and you will be playing a part in a continuing campaign of conservation in the city. Each of our projects safeguards a vital fragment of Venice’s history.

OUR PROJECTS
Recent campaigns include the restoration of marionettes from an 18th-century Venetian puppet theatre, a project to safeguard the iconostasis in the cathedral of Torcello, the conservation of an important triptych from the Bellini family workshop – with work by Giovanni Bellini himself - and new flood defences at the Church of San Nicolò dei Mendicoli.

ABOUT
Venice in Peril Fund was founded, following devastating flooding in 1966, to help save and maintain the world-famous artistic and architectural treasures of Venice.

VENICE AND YOU
In support of its conservation work, Venice in Peril Fund also promotes a deeper understanding of Venice, its complex history, the contribution it has made to world culture and the challenges it faces today, so as to encourage responsible and informed engagement with the city.
